

SATURDAY'S BIG BARBECUE IS A WINNER.

All Arrangements for the Entertainment of the Multitude Have Been Completed.

CHIEF MARSHAL JESSE BLOCH

Issues General Orders for the Governing of the Big Demonstration by the Clubs.

The barbecue to be given Saturday afternoon and evening at Wheeling Park by the Republicans of Triadelphia district, with the co-operation of the Republican hosts and marching clubs of Wheeling and the over-the-river towns, will be the greatest event of the campaign in this section, with the sole exception of "Roosevelt Day." If the weather bureau will kindly furnish the right sort of weather.

The general committee in charge of the barbecue has decided upon the speaking programme in all its details. There will be two mass meetings, one in the afternoon at 2 o'clock and the other in the evening at 8 o'clock, both in the Casino. If the crowd cannot be accommodated in the Casino—which is likely—there will be an overflow meeting, to be addressed from the band stand in the Casino enclosure.

The Speakers.
At the afternoon meeting, the first address will be made by Hon. Simon Wolf, of Washington, who is one of the most effective speakers on the Republican stump this campaign. He will be followed by Hon. A. B. White, of Parkersburg, the Republican candidate for governor, and as this will be his first public appearance here during the campaign, his address will be heard with great interest. The third and last speaker of the afternoon will be Hon. J. Hampton Hoge, of Virginia.

At the evening meeting, the first speaker will be General Stewart L. Woodford, of New York, late minister to Spain. General Woodford is no stranger to Wheeling Republicans, and the mere announcement that he will speak here on Saturday will be received with the greatest satisfaction. He will be followed by Judge J. W. Jones, of Chicago, who is said to be one of the west's most eloquent campaign orators; his addresses are usually directed especially to the workmen. The third speaker of the evening is Hon. Perry A. Shanor, of Sistersville, whose reputation for wit and eloquence is by no means inconsiderable.

Altogether, it may be said that the speaking programme presented for the barbecue meetings is the best, as well as the most extensive of the campaign.

The Parade.
The parade, it has been decided, will form at Edgington Lane instead of Pleasant Valley. The following general orders have been issued by Chief Marshal Jesse Bloch, and will be followed by the clubs intending to participate:

The street demonstration will be a winner, no mistake. The chief marshal, August Schach, calls upon his aides to assemble at the city building at 6 o'clock sharp, and the Citizens' Republican Club, of Benwood, will gather at the same place half an hour later, to assist in receiving the visiting clubs. Aides will wear red, white and blue sashes. The clubs, with the exception of those from Wheeling, Martin's Ferry and Bridgeport, will assemble at Fourth and Water streets, and will march to Forty-eighth street, in North Benwood, to receive the clubs from the towns named.

At Forty-eighth street, on Jacob, the line will be formed in the following order:

The speaking will immediately follow the parade.

Sistersville or Pittsburgh.

After the Sweet North End meeting

parade last night, there was a meeting of the officers of the First West Virginia

Rough Rider regiment, at congressional headquarters, on Chapline street, at which Colonel Bagley impressed upon the company commanders the importance of "cutting off" some of the fancy evolutions during parades,

which only have the result of disarranging

the line, and do not add to the attractiveness of the demonstration.

Postmaster George E. Work, of Sistersville, was present, with Circuit Clerk Henning, and invited the Rough

Riders and all Wheeling marching clubs

to take part in the big club demonstration

at Sistersville on the evening of Saturday,

November 3. He stated that a rate of $1 for the round trip could be had from the Ohio River railroad, the train to leave Wheeling at 5 p. m.

There appears to be a division of sentiment among the clubs, some desiring to go to Sistersville and others to Pittsburgh.

It will rest with the clubs to determine where they go, and several are to decide at meetings to be held to-night.

From the political point of view, it would be far better to go to

Sistersville, where there is a hot fight on in the Tyler-Wetzel joint delegate district, on the result of which may hang the United States senatorship in this state. Pittsburgh will have a big demonstration without Wheeling; perhaps Sistersville would not. Nearly all of the local politicians are urging the clubs to decide upon the Sistersville trip in preference to Pittsburgh, mainly for the reason indicated above.

Edward P. Brown Meeting.

To-night, at Arion hall, South Side,

Hon. Edward Payson Brown, of New York, editor of the Expansionist, will address a Republican mass meeting.

Mr. Brown is one of the best posted public men in the country, and his addresses to-night ought to be heard by a house-full audience. Dr. Herman W.

Zimmer will preside as chairman, and the following vice presidents will occupy seats on the stage:

H. C. Holliday, A. S. Hare,

C. R. Colborn, Dr. Wm. Petrie,

Capt. W. H. Travis, John Roemer,

Chas. E. Reed, Philip Bachmann,

S. E. Whitaker, P. Lind,

C. D. Thompson, Wm. L. Dowler,

Henry Kerns, H. King,

W. W. Rodgers, Dr. Walden,

Wm. Seibitt, Dr. Royd,

T. C. Moffat, Carl Zimmer,

Peter Bachmann, C. W. Conner,

Steve Waterhouse, Dr. A. F. Gasmire,

Jacob Heter, Dr. Taylor,

E. R. Metzner, E. H. Bachmann,

Dr. McMillan.

Before the meeting there will be a demonstration by four companies of the Rough Rider regiment, B, C, D and G, which will escort the speaker from the McLure to the hall.

Ho, for Benwood!

Companies B, C, D and G, of the Rough Rider regiment, after participating in the demonstration preliminary to the Brown meeting at Arion hall, will board cars for Benwood, alighting at the rendezvous, Forty-eighth street.

The other companies of the regiment will proceed to Benwood on cars at or before 7:15 p. m., via the street car line.

The Entire Regiment.

For the barbecue demonstration on Saturday evening, the entire First West

Virginia Rough Rider regiment is called out, and it is expected that the Benwood and Moundsville companies will be on hand, so that for the first time this campaign the entire regiment is nearly one thousand men, may be in line.

Meetings Announced.

To-night, at Greggsville, a mass meeting will be addressed by Messrs. F. W. Nesbitt and John Arbenz, Jr. The Six Footers will go out and provide the escort and demonstration.

Tuesday evening, October 30, at Morgan's school house, Messrs. Frank W. Nesbitt and D. W. Martin will address a Republican mass meeting.

At Glenn's Run school house on Saturday evening, November 3, Messrs. S. O. Boyce and F. W. Nesbitt will address a Republican mass meeting.

The eloquent Phil Waters, of Charles town, will address a meeting of colored voters at Turner hall, or Seaside market hall, on the evening of Friday, November 2.

Thursday, November 1, Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith will address the people of Wheeling on the issues of the campaign. The place of meeting has not been announced.

Elkins Cadets.

The Elkins Cadets are called to meet at the city building this evening at 7 o'clock, to take part in the demonstration at Benwood. All members are requested to be on hand.

Six-Footers.

The Six Footers will awaken the residents of Greggsville this evening, with enthusiasm and red fire. They have been called to meet at 6:30, sharp, on Chapline street. The club has a pressing invitation from Sistersville, to participate in the demonstration there on November 3. The invitation will be acted upon soon.

Mr. Gill Recovers.

Hon. J. J. Gill, the congressman from the Ohio district, just across the river, was along the river front yesterday, just to show them that he is almost well again. He looks to be in splendid condition and will mingle with the voters of his district from now until election day, returning to Belmont county within a week or so.

Company E.

Company E, Rough Riders, of the Fifth ward, is ordered to report at their club room to-night at 7 o'clock. Important business is to be considered, after which this company will go to Benwood.

Bulletins by Telephone.

Superintendent M. R. Wolff, of the Bell Telephone Company, has arranged for a service of election returns by long distance telephone for the subscribers in the Wheeling district. The service is free of charge, but under certain conditions, the most important of which is that the telephone after being connected-up for the returns shall not be used during the evening for anything else. The company will give this service to its patrons throughout the United States. Persons taking the returns by phone must not talk into the telephone; when calling out the returns to others in the room, hold the hand over the transmitter. Many subscribers are applying for the service in Wheeling and the surrounding towns.

Bourke Cockran.

Ex-Congressman Bourke Cockran, of New York, addresses the Popocracy to-night, at the Grand Opera House. There will be a street demonstration before the meeting.

At Martin's Ferry.

One of the most interesting local Republican meetings ever held in Martin's Ferry was the one of last evening, at Scheehle's hall, and the building was crowded as it probably never was before. Before the meeting convened all the Republican clubs in the city turned out, and for an hour paraded the streets. The meeting was addressed by Mr. H. G. Pratt and a former Democrat, William T. Dixon. Mr. Pratt was tendered a rousing ovation when he arose to address the assembled audience. He made a strong talk, and was enthusiastically applauded.

Attorney William T. Dixon, who for many years has been a staunch Democrat, but who is now an upholder of sound money, was then introduced by the chairman, who remarked that there was more rejoicing over the return of one lost sheep than over the finding of nine that were not astray. Mr. Dixon was warmly greeted, and made a most eloquent and convincing address. Mr. Dixon said in part:

"I come before you to-night without an apology to anybody, but as a citizen, wishing for the best interest of the city and my country's welfare. We are about at the close of a presidential contest. In a few days you gentlemen of the jury will walk to the polls and choose your chief executive, and this ought to be for you the subject of vital importance. Looking over McKinley's administration of the past four years, events of importance have taken place both to citizens and the nation, and this ought to be also a matter of vital importance to you. Since 1888, when Benjamin Harrison was installed President, this country has made great stride greater than any other nation. In 1892, the Democratic party said that we could not make tin in this country, and when I look to-day at the large number of tin mills in this country, employing over 20,000 men, women and children, I indeed have cause for changing my views, for I am convinced of the fact that tin can be made in this country, and this is one of the reasons that I stand before you this evening. The Democratic party says that a thing cannot be done you can rest assured that it can and will be accomplished by the Republican party."
